Dated Lockport, Sept. 15th, 1869.

By order of Committee.

J. J. B. SPOONER, Chairman.

F. H. Linnson and the Canals.

In our issue of yesterday we very cheerfully gave place to a communication from Mr. Linnson, Canal Superintendent, in reply to our strictures on canal management, in our issue of Monday. In this communication there is a statement of facts, namely, that the water was so very high that—if he had closed the gates of the guard lock, it would have been of no avail,—of which we are unable to speak definitely to-day, but shall be enabled to obtain all of the facts in this regard very soon. But it will be seen by a careful perusal of Mr. Linnson's communication that it contains a direct admission of the main charge against the canal officials in connection with the recent high water, namely that of absence and culpable neglect of duty. He says:

"I got the guard-lock closed by 4 P. M. Thursday."

From this significant admission it will be seen that the guard lock was closed at 4 o'clock on Thursday, when it should have been closed on Wednesday morning, near the commencement of the flood and not near its close. It is not usually regarded wise management to cover the well just after the child is drowned. Again, we are informed that the gates of the guard lock have been suffered to become in so dilapidated a condition as to render them comparatively ineffective. Indeed, all who have given any attention to canals, are aware that this is the fact in regard to all the structures of the canal on this section. The Main street bridge of this city is a fair sample. Instead of permanent repairs of substantial timber, it is occasionally patched with short pieces of soft plank, until it has become dangerous to drive over it. There have been, as we have been informed, at least four cases of horses breaking through this structure the present season, at the extreme peril of the life and limbs of the animal.

Mr. Linnson expresses the conviction that the opinion of citizens and boatmen are favorable to the present canal management. We are compelled to say that the advices received by the gentleman are the very opposite of those received by us from the most experienced and extensive forwarders of all parties, which are in effect, that the canal is very badly managed, and that the consequent damage to canal men is very great. If the "managers" at this place desire details, we can give them to their hearts content, although our available space will permit of giving but a small portion of those details in a single issue.

The Cable and the Great Eastern.

Although the Great Eastern proved a stupendous failure in regard to answering the ends designed by its builders, it proves providentially to be just the thing for the accomplishment of another object which has become of great interest to our race. She has demonstrated her ability for the work of transmitting telegraphic cables from point to point in a most satisfactory manner. Just notice for a moment her history. As a passenger vessel she was not very much of a success. She did not greatly excel as a fast sailing vessel. But she began to fulfill her life work when the great plan for annihilating space and distancing steam was being put into execution. Here was evidently her "mission." She proved an important aid in laying the second Atlantic Cable; and has recently demonstrated her superiority over smaller vessels by successfully accomplishing the laying of the second cable from France. Although this work was dangerous with small vessels, even with the greatest facilities, she has proved herself entirely equal to the emergency. And still her work is not finished in this direction. In a few weeks the sea-monster takes her departure for India, where she is to be employed in laying the New Indian Cable. This done she wends her way back to England, where, in May, she will likely, be engaged in laying the Falmouth and Gibraltar Cable. Thus the failure on the ocean as a sailing steamer becomes the handmaid to success in laying the great wires linking the continents together, and bringing peace and prosperity to men. Shall it be said that any thing is an utter failure and good for nothing in the world?

The Great Eastern, for its services in laying the French Cable received $7,000 a month while engaged and $100,0000 of the capital stock. For laying the Indian Cable she is to receive $250,000 in capital stock. Surely, however poor a dividend the old hulk pays, it is not a perfectly dead investment. There can good come out of even such a monstrosity as the Great Eastern.

☞ The votes of about two hundred districts of the Methodist denomination, on the question of admitting lay delegates, have been received, and the figures stand, 91,134 for, and 41,160 against. Two hundred and two districts are still to be heard from, and they will probably show about the same results. The point has been raised that as there are at least seven hundred thousand adults in the Church, and less than half have voted, the remainder should be considered against lay delegation. But under the resolution, the majority of the votes cast is to be decisive.

General C. H. Van Wyck, for several terms representative in Congress from the Orange and Sullivan District, was married yesterday at Milford, Pa., to Kate, daughter of Colonel John Brodhead, and sister-in-law to Hon. D. M. Van Auken. The bridal party with a number of friends, including ex-Senator H. R. Low, has started on a trip to California.

Telegraphic News Summary.

—A duel was fought yesterday between James R. Swedburg and J. B. Gardner, citizens of San Francisco, in which Swedburg had two fingers shot off.

—The members of United States Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows reached Sacramento on Monday night. They were received by all the officers of the Grand Lodge of California, and will participate to-day in the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of a temple to be erected by the Sacramento Odd Fellows.

—The Board of Managers of the Avondale Relief Association met yesterday, pursuant to a call, and appropriated $5000 for the immediate wants of the families left desolate by the recent disaster. They also appointed an Executive Committee, to report at a future meeting some plan for the management of the fund and its distribution. The Board adjourned to meet on Wednesday next, at 11 o'clock. A. M. Henderson Gaylord, treasurer of the fund, acknowledges the receipt of $18,456.37.

—The steamer Phantom, an Evansville and Cairo packet, on her down trip exploded her boilers at 10 o'clock yesterday morning at the foot of Cumberland and near Paducah, Ky. George Nicholson, the first clerk, and five or six others were killed and many were wounded. The boat and cargo are a total loss.

—A man named Albert J. Gould has been arrested in Toronto on the charge of having committed forgeries to the extent of $100,000 in Monroe county, N. Y. A preliminary examination took place before the police magistrate yesterday, and the prisoner was remanded.

—The Seward party left San Francisco for Santiago yesterday.

—The Iowa and Wisconsin Fairs opened Tuesday, but owing to the unpropitious state of the weather, the attendance was not very large. The entries at both of the fairs are greatly in excess of any former year.

—A St. Paul dispatch says there has been almost incessant rain since Saturday night, and the whole country is deluged. There are eight feet of water in the channel, and river is rising one inch per hour. It is feared the Minnesota river will overflow its banks, which will do incalculable damage.

—Seram W. Cady has sued James E. Mumford, a prominent lawyer of St. Louis, for spiriting away his wife, and having improper relations with her—asking $20,000 damages.

—The Red Stocking base ball club, of Cincinnati, arrived at St. Louis en route for San Francisco yesterday, and played the Unions of that city in the afternoon. The score stood—Red Stockings, 70; Unions 9.

—Senator Brownlow published a card in the Nashville Times yesterday, stating that he has disposed of his interest in the Knoxville Whig, but that paper will continue to support the Republican cause.

—Prince Arthur arrived at Quebec at noon yesterday, and was received at the Queen's Wharf by the officers of the garrison, the city corporation and guard of honor. Salutes were fired from Durham's Terrace and the Citadel. The Mayor read an address of welcome, to which the Prince replied. He will leave for Montreal on Monday.

—The Woman Suffrage Convention met at Pike's Hall, Cincinnati, at 12 o'clock yesterday. Among those on the platform were Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, of Chicago; Miss Susan B. Anthony, of New York; Mrs. Lucy Stone Blackwell and husband, of Boston.

—A large number of prominent railroad men, including Fiske, Wm. H. Vanderbilt and Torrence, passed through Albany yesterday in Commodore Vanderbilt's palace car, bound for St. Louis.

—The Ecclesiastical Court, summoned for the trial of Rev. Mr. Cheney, of Chicago, met at 2 o'clock yesterday, pursuant to adjournment, and at the suggestion of the Bishop adjourned till the 6th of November.

—A return game of base ball, between the Athletics, of Philadelphia, and Mutuals of New York, was played on the latter's ground, at Williamsburg, and was won by the former by a score of 21 to 22. An immense crowd was present.

—The annual convention of the Master Mechanics's Association of the United States assembled in Pittsburgh yesterday, and their time was occupied with an investigation of mechanical reports relative to locomotive building and other matters pertaining to railroad machinery. The following officers were unanimously elected: President, N. E. Chapman, of Cleveland; Treasurer, S. J. Hays, of Illinois Central Railroad; Secretary, S. P. Dodge, of Chicago. A grand banquet will be tendered to the members of the convention by the manufacturers of Pittsburgh to-day.

—The Administration had not restricted Minister Motley in the re-opening of negotiations for the settlement of the Alabama Claims, although it was thought at the time he received his instructions it would be expedient to wait until the excitement in England caused by the Senate's rejection of the Clarendon-Johnson treaty, had subsided, before ever presenting the subject to Her Majesty's government. But it was never contemplated that Motley should neglect any favorable invitation or opportunity to renew negotiations. He was specially instructed on the subject of the naturalization protocol which was ratified by the Senate, but Parliament has yet to pass the law necessary to carry it into effect. He has since been engaged in the negotiations of the Consular treaty, a measure considered of much importance by this government.

—A remarkable rise in the Mississippi river has occurred, owing to long continued and unusually heavy rains. A boom above the dams at Minneapolis, Minn., broke Tuesday morning, and 15,000,000 feet of logs ran over the falls, sweeping off the light flush boards of the temporary horse dam, which holds the volume of the Mississippi back from the improvement works. The dam is uninjured. The Minnesota river, emptying into the Mississippi, is reported at eight feet, and 15,000 tons of hay are swamped out. The rain storm has continued for four day, and has done great damage to grain. The damage in St. Croix county alone is estimated at $150,000.

—A Washington dispatch announces that it is ascertained that the various propositions for the settlement of the Cuban question have been carefully considered by the State Department and finally abandoned as impracticable on account of dissatisfaction among the Cuban leaders. There remains pending only the original proposition for the sale of the island to the Cubans, which Spain at first declined to entertain. It is well known, however, that the Spanish authorities will return this proposition with a decided refusal to treat upon such a basis. Some apprehensions are felt here that the steadily growing excitement among the Spaniards, and the alleged plotting of Prim at Paris, are sure indications of strong ill-will against the policy of the United States on the Cuban question, and may lead to grave complications between this country and Spain.

—It is ascertained from a reliable source that General Sickles was not authorized to make any demand upon the Spanish government. He was instructed merely to act directly, but with earnestness, as mediator between that power and the Cubans, on the basis already published, for the independence of the Island. Leading members of the government favor the proposition, but are not free at present to finally accept of it.

☞ There comes to us a report to the effect that in the latter part of 1871, Adelina Patti (Marquise de Caux) will come to this country to sing one hundred times during the ensuing eight months, for which she is to receive 10,000 francs in gold a night, and her expenses paid—the whole to be under the management of Strakosch. The Paris paper, which brings the intelligence, says that with this series of performances, Patti's career as a singer will absolutely end, and that she will thereafter reside in Paris at the Marquise and no longer as the Diva. The paper claims to be authority on musical questions, and asserts that the engagement is positive, Patti having entered into a written compact.

Should the report be perfectly reliable, we are hardly prepared to believe that it will prove a valuable investment of the manager. It may be the American people are ready to pay this immense sum, with a round margin for M. Strakosch, and yet we rather doubt it. The Commercial Advertiser well says that 'with all her acknowledged charms, La Diva, in the humble judgement of thousands who have heard both prima donne, is not a sweeter singer than Louise Kellogg, even though the latter does place a much more moderate estimate upon the service.'

Bishop Huntington to the Onondaga Indians.

Bishop Huntington recently paid a visit to the Onondaga Indians, and was accorded a cordial reception, under the lead of the chief of the tribe. To the chief, Captain George, the Bishop sends the following letter:

My Respected Friend:—We have come to you in the name of the Great Shepherd of all the sheep that are scattered throughout the world. We wish you the blessing of health, peace, prosperity, and the mercy of God our Father through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Desiring to promote, in every way in my power, the best welfare of our people, I propose to send among you, if you will approve of it, a Christian woman, to instruct your children, from day to day, in useful knowledge. When they have learned to read and write and cast accounts, and many other things that this wise and gentle lady can teach them they will more likely be industrious, to save what they earn, to be just and brave, and live virtuously and happily. Will you not welcome this messenger of the Great Father and this daughter of the Church among you, and advise your people who have children to send them to her school? And will you not admonish the children themselves to be obedient and diligent, and treat her with affection and respect?

I find that accounts of my visitation among you last month, when you received me with so much honor and hospitality, have been published far and wide throughout the country. I have received many letters speaking of you with interest and esteem; and I trust, in the providence of God, that there are good days in the future for the generations of the Onondagas. I am, very dear Chief, sincerely and faithfully yours,

F. C. HUNTINGTON,

By Divine permission, Bishop of Central New York.

☞ It is only in a semi-barbarous age that no glory but that of war kindles a popular enthusiasm, and no hero but a hero strong in battle receives the general homage of the community. The remarkable expression of reverence for the memory of Humboldt yesterday, as it was an outburst of enthusiasm for the glories of science, was an evidence of advanced civilization. The greatest feature of the day was the address of Prof. Agassiz before the Boston Society of Natural History. What Humboldt did for the world, and why the world should unite with so much heartiness in doing honor to his memory, our readers will find admirably set forth in this interesting and valuable address.—Tribune.

☞ The most interesting fact developed by the letter from Lady Byron's solicitors, the full text of which we publish to day, is that her own statement is in the hands of three trustees, who are empowered by her will to make such use of it as they may deem fitting. If Mrs. Stowe has represented the case, we may therefore expect this manuscript to be given to the world.—[Tribune.

Personal.

—One of the next moves in the Byron-Stowe controversy, the Boston Transcript says, will probably be the publication of Lady Byron's will.

—Mr. Longfellow's daughters were known as the "three graces" in England, and Boston boasts that their beauty broke the hearts of numerable juvenile John Bulls.

—Rev. James Durborrow, an Episcopal clergyman in Philadelphia, solemnized on Sunday evening his one thousandth marriage ceremony during a fourteen years' pastorate.

—The will of the late Henry Keep makes his wife sole executrix, and leaves all his property, worth about $4,000,000, to her and his daughter, his two sisters and two sisters of his wife.

—Elder Ezra T. Benson, one of the apostles of Mormondom, fell dead at Ogden, U. T., on the 3d instant. Elder Benson leaves fifteen widows and seventy-two children to mourn his demise.

—The poetical professor of Utah is Miss Eliza Snow who is kept in board and clothes by Brigham, as a reward for her literary outpourings. She has written a book of Mormon hymns.

—The Lexington (Ind.) Enterprise says: "Married, on Wednesday last, after a vast amount of trials and tribulations, by 'Squire Duffield, Col. Robert M. Foster and Mrs. Sarah Hughes, all of this place."

Political.

The Petersburg (Va.,) Express says: "So far the northern Democracy have never rendered us the very slightest service, but they have always been on the qui vive to find out how they could most advantageously use us for their own interested purposes."

Gen. Longstreet's praiseworthy course since the close of the war has called down upon him the maledictions of all the small minds of the South. The Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution can see no parallel between his course and that of the Virginians. It says that "he has the price and it is that that dooms him," and that he must not look for his indignant, deserted and betrayed companions to smile sanction upon a deed that is laved with the dark blazonry of the bribe."

—The New York Herald contemptuously dismisses Pendleton's recent speech with the bitter remark that, as far as it goes, it is a reproduction of the Democratic Chicago platform of 1864, which laid out McClellan and Pendleton, and the platform of 1868, which killed off Seymore and Blair. It adds: "The Ohio contest is really between Grant and his policy, backed by the republican party of the North, and by both parties in the South, and on one side, and Pendleton for 1872, on the Democratic platform of 1868, on the other side. Up hill work this for Pendleton in Ohio in 1869. Rosecrans saw it at a glance and retired."

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."

ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS

Is a very superior regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to to the constitution—a thorough

a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.

The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden, mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.

It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties or odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hering, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, or belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.

Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventive of or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks, it has no equal.

Being stimulating (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.

CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured by copyright, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all neck quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

Shipment of Texas Cattle to Chicago.

Atchison, Kas., Sept. 16.

The Central Branch Railroad to-day commenced running stock trains. This is the beginning of the shipment of an immense number of Texas cattle to Chicago. The route saves over one hundred miles of railroad and about $25 per car.

The freshets in Washington county have done immense damage. Mills, farm houses and crops have been washed away.

Arkansas Politics.

Memphis, Sept. 16.

A special from Little Rock, Ark, says: The Republican members of the Legislature held a meeting, at which resolutions were adopted for the formation of a liberal Republican party on the basis of universal suffrage and universal amnesty.

A committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions and take other measures for the completion of the organization.

The Committee to-day published a call for a State Convention to meet on the 13 of October to carry out the purposes of the meeting.

Mrs. Holles while standing on the platform at Taylors station, on the Louisville Road, was struck by a car, and died in a few minutes.

Washington, Sept. 16.

Foreign representatives have heretofore on several public occasions, complained of lack of attention. Last Thursday at the funeral of Secretary Rawlins, all proper courtesies were extended, and tickets were sent to them for admission to the War Department.

Their position in the procession was immediately after the President and members of their suite, but as they were invited personally, and not as members of the diplomatic corps, surprise is expressed in prominent circles that notwithstanding the former discussions of etiquette, they appeared in plain citizens dress instead of the costumes distinctive of their official character.

Democratic Nominations in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Sept. 16.

The following ticket has been decided on by the Democratic City Executive Committee; City Treasurer, Col. Wm. C. Patterson; City Commissioner, Major John R. Coxe; Recorder of Deeds, John G. Brenan; Prothonotary of the District Court, Washington J. Jackson; Clerk of the Quarter Sessions, David W. Sellers; Coroner, Joseph M. Reichard.

A ratification meeting is called for Friday night.

Fort Monroe, Sept. 16.

It is reported at Norfolk that the St. Lawrence, now used a marine barracks at Portsmouth Navy Yard, is to be fitted out under orders from the Department that all sailing vessels are to be immediately got ready for sea.

Foreign News.

Madrid, Sept. 16.—Evening.

Two Spanish iron clad frigates have been ordered by the Government to proceed to Cuba with troops. Three thousand men have already sailed for the Island, and 7,000 more will leave Spain for the same destination during the present week.

London, Sept. 16.

It is known here that Major Gen. Sickles, United States Minister to Madrid, has transmitted to the Spanish Cabinet an official note protesting in behalf of the American people and Government of the United States, against outrages recently committed on American citizens in Cuba and insinuating at the same time to Ministers, that belligerent rights would soon be accorded to Cubans by the Government in Washington, should Spain persist in her barbarities in the Island, and in her refusal of terms of a compromise with the people.

The members of the opposition to the Serrano Government assailed Sickles despatch with the object of embarrassing the regency as well as to prevent if possible any arrangement with the Executive in Washington.

Telegrams from Spain, addressed to and on-route for the New York Herald, relative to Cuban affairs, were stopped at Madrid, on Monday, the 13th inst., by order of the Government.

A statement which has been pretty extensively circulated here to the effect that England, France and Austria, will co-operate with the intention of sustaining the rights of Spain in Cuba, is denied.

Cuban Affairs.

Washington, Sept. 16.

Senor Lemus and Amber, of the Cuba Junta, had an interview with Secretary Fish yesterday, and as a result of it, it is said important developments to Cuban affairs will be made in a few days.

Rumors of a triple alliance among European powers, for the protection of Spain against the United States, creates considerable excitement at the capital.

The Election in Texas.

When the election in Texas was originally ordered, the 30th of November was fixed as the day on which it should be held.

General Reynolds, commander of the military department in which Texas is located, informed the Secretary of War recently, that in his opinion it would be impossible to hold a fair election in one day, and recommended that it be extended to four days.

In accordance with this recommendation, General Sherman, Secretary of War, has issued on order that the election be continued four days.

Washington, Sept. 16.

Some time ago A. I. Applegate Lieut. Governor of Alabama was appointed Storekeeper in Mobile Custom House. Some objection being made to his holding both positions he submitted the case to the Secretary of the Treasury, together with the statement of his reasons for wishing to retain the Government appointment.

It appears that the Alabama State Constitution prohibits any State officer from holding a lucrative position under the Government. The Secretary has decided that there is no legal objection to his holding position as storekeeper.
