Fill up the Schools!

The Fall terms of the various academic of Otsego and Delaware have commenced or about to do so. There is danger that some of them will not receive support according to their worthiness, and that teachers will in consequence be discouraged, and discredit be done to the cause of education. There is no need that this be ent. so, for enough young men and young women are leaving home for educational purposes, so called, to give every academy a respectable attendance and a fair supty days attendance at one of these "collegg" is not after all a passport to the best situations in business life. Discipline of mind, habits of thought, and proper methods of study are not to be had by anysuperficial process, and so, many return to home life from these windy concerns to home schools!
