Gubernatorial Nominations. Marshall O. Roberts, one of the prom inent candidates of the Republican party for Governor, has absolutely withdrawn his name from the list, for the good conson that the delicate and uncertain condition of his health will not permit, him to think of performing the duties or of ontering upon the canvass,-Our own opinion is that Horaco Greeley and Stowart L. Woodford are now the most prominent names before the people Mr. Woodford's friends will do what they can reasonably, to secure his nomination. He is one of the most elequent and effectivo speakers in the State; is capable, energetic and honest, and was a gallant soldier. No man is more popular with the army. Mr. Greeley does not ask, and we presume does not desire a nomination, but will not refuse it, if such shall be the wishes of the Convention There are very many Repubthe ticket. Mr. Greeley thinks there are a considerable number of Republicans in the State, who would vote against him. We think he is mistaken in this. There were those who voted against him one year ago, because he united with others as aurety for the appearance of Jeff.
