Shattered Constitutions. Our constitutions are clastic. They are not easily hattered. In fact, strictly speaking, Death alone can shatter them, for they represent the reserve of itality, which enables the entoebled system to react when the pressure of disease is removed from it But it is the fashion, when the body is weak, the circulation languld, the nerves tremulous and the mind depressed, to say that the constitution is ruined, or broken down, or shattered. In cases of the kind described administer HOSTETTER'S STOM-ACH BITTERS, and it will soon be seen how little ground there is for this stereotyped note of alarm The tonic and alterative properties of the specific rapidly diffused through the whole organization b the silmulant which forms its basis, will immed ately create a favorable reaction, and this reanima ing process will go on as the medicine is continue until strength, health and mental activity are com pletely restored. Every day cures of this kind are accomplished. Let the debilitated invalid, when told by his condoling friends that "his constitution is shattered," have recourse at once to this strengthrecruiting preparation, in which the finest stomachics and alteratives of the vegetable kingdom ar represented, and he will soon be able to meet their gloomy forebodidgs with a confident smile, and to
