The local business alone of this road establishes its complete financial success, independently of the vast traffic which must pass over it. In consequence of the aid it receives from the General Government, from the State of California, and from municipal corporations, the annual interest obligations which the company are called upon to assume are very light. The net cannings upon an average of about 15 miles, in 1860, were nearly three times the amount of annual interest interities to be assumed in building it, and were $235,000 more than the annual interest on the entire amount of First Morlgage Bonds which the Company can issue upon the first 160 miles.

In these important particulars the Securities of the Central Pacific Company offer an unusual degree of safety, stability and profit combined.

The First Montgage Bonds of this Company are destined to occupy a prominent place among First-Class Securities in the money markets of this country and Europe, and will, without doubt, be cargerly sought for, and anxiously dealt in hereafter, at rates materially in advance of the price at which they are now offered.

Having carefully investigated the resources, progress, and prospects of the road, and the management of the Company's affairs, we cordially recommend these Bonds to Trustees, Executors, Institutions, and others as an eminently sound, reliable and remnnerative form of permanent investment.
