

Local Matters.

W. S. Myers has removed his law office to the Town Clerk's office, a more convenient location.

Dr. Henry Boynton left Woodstock Tuesday of last week for Texas, with full blood Merino sheep.

The central train was some two hours late on Tuesday, caused by the burning of a bridge in Belvidere.

The Springfield Savings Bank declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent on the 31st.

During the month of July, various parties to the number of 750 persons visited Warren's Pond, in A.stead, N. H.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Vermont Valley railroad will be held in this place on Wednesday of next week.

The weather is so warm this week that we have given up considerable space in this and our pages, to Nabby and Harry's Boy, our "Boston correspondent."

Curtis Davis of Boston advertises a most excellent article of soap in our paper this week. It is for sale at several of the stores in this village. Try it.

The Chester boys are getting up into the upper tendon on Base Ball, and we fear they may become vain. Can't a club be formed here to match them?

The democrats of this county have called a convention at Newfane, on Saturday of this week to nominate county officers. H. B. Smith of Milton will address the "crowd."

C. N. Davenport, Esq., of Wilmington, who is among the ablest lawyers of this State, contemplates removing to this place next spring, and is now negotiating to purchase a residence in this village for that purpose.

Temperance matters have recently assumed a peculiar phase in this place, and several liquor prosecutions have been investigated and are now pending from information furnished by the copperhead "magnate" at Montpelier! "Save me from my friends!"

Within a few weeks we have received several anonymous communications, apparently from persons in this village, as they were drop letters. Some of them would have been published if they had not been accompanied by the names of their authors, not for publication of course but as a guarantee to us.

Dysentery continues to prevail with unusual severity at Saxton's River, and it is feared that one or two cases will prove fatal in spite of the excellent medical skill which they have in that place. Whole families have been sick, but are now convalescent.

There is nothing new to add to the Acuteville tragedy. The murderer was sent to Rutland jail instead of Chelsea, and will have his trial next December. He will of course be convicted, when he will be sent to prison for one year and then hung. He will therefore have considerable time to reflect on the enormity of his crime.

Some six or eight weeks since the New England Fish Commissioners held a meeting in this place, of which we gave an account in the TIMES in common with other papers. By some means it appeared again in the Springfield Republican a few days since, as having occurred here "last week," whereupon it has been grabbed by the papers generally as a piece of fresh news.

Many parties from this village have made pleasant excursions to Warren's Pond during the last few weeks. Recently one party had an unusually favorable day and caught large quantities of fish. One lady, Mrs. L. F. Allen, caught over one hundred perch. On Tuesday of this week the Methodist Sabbath School of this village of about forty-five persons made an excursion there and had a very happy time. It is an exceedingly pleasant drive, being about eleven miles from this place.

The Beau Mole Skirt advertised in our columns by the Nashua Skirt Co., is pronounced by competent judges to be a very superior article, fully equal to any from the most celebrated houses in New York, from the fact that they are durable, made after the latest style, and very much less in expense. This cheapness is combined with the latest styles and durability, and they are now largely sold by the merchants in this section both in Vermont and New Hampshire in preference to any other.

A report is very current that H. H. Stone, Esq., has sold his residence on Henry Street, but it is not quite true yet. In connection with this we regret to learn that Mr. Stone contemplates moving to Keene, N. H. next spring. An enterprising and excellent citizen, it is a public loss to our village to have such a man leave us, but his duties as assistant superintendent of the Chesire railroad seem to require that his headquarters should be in that place, and he has now become a partner in a hardware establishment at Keene.

Henry Clarke, Esq., of Rutland, Secretary of the Vermont State Agricultural Society, has our thanks for a pamphlet of the programme, list of premiums, regulations, &c., of the next State Fair to be held at Brattleboro, Sept. 10, 11th, 12th and 13th. We shall give more particulars hereafter.

On the 21st ult., Lewis Hall, a boy about nine years old, and son of Hiram Hall, fell from a swing in front of Foster's barn, Jamaica, and broke his right arm.

L. D. Miner and William Merrill captured a pickerel in Plymouth Pond on the 2d inst. which measured 3 feet 4 inches in length, and weighed 17 pounds. The girth of the fish in the largest place was 19 inches.

Henry E. Butler, son of the late Hon. John E. Butler of Jamaica, who recently returned home from Beaufort, S. C., where he had been dangerously ill for some time, is now apparently slowly recovering.

Hon. Abel Underwood of Newbury, Ex-Judge of the Supreme Court, has been appointed Register in Bankruptcy for the Second Congressional District, and John P. Searle, Esq., of Barton, for the Third Congressional District.

On Monday the 29th ult., Lizzie L., daughter of the late Dr. Emerson and Sylvia J. Howard of North Windham, while at play, accidentally sat down in a pail of boiling water, and being unable to extricate herself, was so badly scalded before aid could reach her, that after a week's suffering, she died on the 5th inst., aged 4 years and 1 month.

There will be a Musical Convention at Ludlow commencing Tuesday evening, September 3d, and continue till Friday evening of that week. Conductor, Prof. C. M. Wyman of Keene, N. H. Soloists, Miss M. E. Clark, Boston, assisted by Miss S. A. Fling, Potadon, N. Y., and other musical celebrities, and the occasion promises to be one of rare interest.

The Selectmen of this town have posted up a check list of all the voters of Rockingham, and will meet in this village on Friday the 30th day of this month to make corrections. This check list is mainly of interest to the two political parties of the town, and they should see to it that their voters are all on the list, as if they are not by the 30th inst. they cannot vote at the election following. This check list will we think be found to be a matter of convenience, as it will save all wrangling on the day of election, after the voting has commenced, as to who are legal voters.

The Horse Railroad.—The horse railroad announced last week, has brought out "our Boston correspondent." Hear him:—

MR. EDITOR:—Is the Horse Rail Road to be established for the purpose of distributing the fish from our Lake? If it is, would it not be policy on the part of the stockholders to allow Mr. Geo. Ryder, the present Treasurer of the Lake Company, to be its superintendent? Mr. Ryder not only has the ability and ambition to start and drive the cars, but the ability to conduct one or the whole; besides, he has claims upon the town which are generally allowed and will always be, if people are grateful.

If the Horse Railroad is to be run to connect with the Grafton road, Ryder and I desire to have nothing to do with it.—The Grafton road refuse to bring Soap stone for our dam, except at a rate ruinous to our interests. Ryder refuses to pay such charges, and is unanimously sustained by our directors in his decision.

Mr. Ryder is a Democrat, of so many years' standing that I forget whether the Democratic party was known or started when he began the advocacy of democratic principles. And now that the old party, of which George was so long a pillar in Rockingham, lies prostrate in the mud, he wipes away a tear now and then to solace his feelings, as he contemplates the "glory of departed days," when democratic rum was drunk, and democrats were packed loosely in Hayden's bar room at the middle of the town. But however low the party may be wallowing, Ryder stands forth as the representative of Vermont democracy as it was, and as his fond dreams picture it will yet be.

You must pardon me for pulling politics into the cars of this Horse Rail Road enterprise, but I only do so to save trouble hereafter. I should not offer his name for superintendent, and I do not think he would accept the position, if it was known that niggers were to be allowed to occupy seats in the cars. White men are a superior race, and as democrats we shall assert the right of brain to govern if we manage the road. If the stockholders of the Horse Rail Road desire his services, the platform of principles on which it will be conducted is before them.

I only offer his name in connection with the position, solely from the reason that I desire him to be receiving a modest livelihood until such time as the Mount Kilburn Lake B-gins to pay its semi-annual dividends. HARRY'S BOY.

BOSTON, August 3, 1867.

NEW MAP.—Lloyd of New York, who issued such excellent maps during the war, has just issued a new map of the world on one side of the sheet, and of the United States on the other. It contains a large amount of valuable statistics, population of every State and county in the Union, distance tables, railroads, including the Pacific railroad, plans of twelve important cities of the United States, a panoramic picture of the country between the Pacific coast and St. Louis. It also includes Russian America, recently ceded to the United States. It is very clear, printed and is the best and cheapest map we have seen for a long time. A copy may be seen at this office. Mr. J.

J. Holbrook, a very worthy young man of Keene, N. H., is agent for this map for Windham County, and as he will probably canvass this town next week, we bespeak for him a favorable reception and liberal patronage.

Latest News.—The latest news from Washington is that Secretary Stanton refuses to resign, and that the President will suspend him from the exercise of his duties as Secretary of War. Stanton declares that he won't even do that on account of the Civil Tenure bill, and it is reported the President has further notified him not to attempt any more cabinet meetings.

The Jury got the Surratt case in their hands at 12 o'clock on Wednesday, and at 10 o'clock Wednesday night there was no prospect of an immediate agreement.

BASE BALL.—A match game of base ball between Black River and Chester clubs was played at Proctorsville, Monday last, having been postponed from Saturday on account of the rain. The weather was fine but very warm. A number of spectators were present from Proctorsville, Chester and surrounding towns. The game was called at 2:15. Chester won the toss and sent their opponents to the bat. The game was played in two hours and forty-five minutes, resulting in the success of the Chester nine by a score of 65 to 27, as follows:

Score table for Base Ball game between Black River and Chester. Columns include Runs, Hits, Errors, and Innings.

Black River, 1st 2d 3d 4th 5th 6th 7th 8th 9th. Chester, 1st 2d 3d 4th 5th 6th 7th 8th 9th.

House Runs, Fly Catches, Struck Bats, Fanned, Stuffed Out, Umpire—A. W. Tins, Springfield, Vt.

Registration.—The Selectmen of this town have posted up a check list of all the voters of Rockingham, and will meet in this village on Friday the 30th day of this month to make corrections.

At the close of the game, both clubs were entertained at the hall of the hotel, with a most excellent collation prepared by the young ladies of Proctorsville for the occasion. The gentlemanly proprietor of the House kindly gave the use of his hall and rendered such assistance as was needed. The tables were not only very tastefully arranged but heavily loaded with choice viands and for such an ample repast, too much credit cannot be given to the young ladies who furnished it.

Base Ball is becoming all the rage in this part of Vermont, and clubs are now being formed in Andover, Weston, Ludlow and other places. There are two in Springfield already.

We hope the Union men of this town who are able, will feel it a pleasure to respond to Judge Poland's appeal on second page. We would not ask those not able, to pay for mere political purposes, because there are enough who are. The cause is good and just and we hope for a liberal response. W. H. Johnson will receive all contributions for this town and forward the same to Judge Poland.

WESTMINSTER CENTENNIAL.—The proceedings of the Westminster Centennial, were printed last week, and the book-binder will have them finished by Saturday, and ready for distribution the first of next week. It makes a pamphlet of 48 pages, contains the sermon of Rev. P. H. White, the address of Rev. A. Stevens, Introductory account by Rev. F. J. Fairbanks, and our report of the speeches and sentiments at the collation in the Town Hall.

CHESTER.—Albert S. Richardson had two fingers cut off by a moving-machine last week, Thursday.

Porter Bates walked at work for B. B. Baldwin haying, stuck a pitchfork into his right leg, last week, Friday.

These two accidents show the liability of farmers to "accidents," and in this connection it will be well to refer them to Hugh Henry, Esq., or T. R. Clark both of whom are agents for reliable accident insurance companies.

John F. Whitney and a carriage harness and nice carriage stolen from his barn last week, Thursday night.

LIQUOR PROSECUTIONS.—Mr. Editor: It is well occasionally to be reminded of our duties. In the Argus and Patriot of the 25th I am informed that there was more drunkenness in Bellevue Falls on Circus day than heretofore, and that liquor selling and drinking is on the increase, &c. &c.

As an officer under the law it is my duty to investigate such matters when informed, and in doing so found to my surprise that there was some truth in the statement. Of necessity suits have been brought against those concerned in the sale so far as known. Again the Argus and Patriot of August 1st informs me that there was a drunken row at Donovan's on Sunday, "the cause being a barrel of cider," &c. &c. On reading this information I immediately investigated the case, and shall probably commence a suit if it can be done without "expense to the State."

In closing I would say that there has been some doubts heretofore about the editor of the Argus being a thorough going "ramrod," but since he has become a public informer of those that sell contrary to law, Temperance men should doubt no longer. A. S. CLARK, Town Grand Juror.

South Reading, Vermont. Where is it? Indeed, what is it? It is the tiniest bit of a village that a stranger can imagine, and is so smuggled in among the grassy hills, and is such a speck of a city to view that one would feel half sure that he was on the wrong road, who was in search of it. But surely there is sacred ground there to tread.

The little three cornered park which lies so conveniently in the heart of the place, is now being scampered over by little feet that were not when the village first crowned the love of its memory; when the people of South Reading sent forth, so tenderly and yet so proudly, their sons and daughters to be a blessing to the world, and an honor to their parents and their country.

The place with its small compass is a cherished spot, sending forth as many qualified men as many larger villages can boast. Sweet memories cling to it, and those dear old homes are sought by strong men and women with a returning juvenile gladness to meet father and mother, and to sit down under the beamed roof and re-creat tired energy with another feeling of the old security.

Fourteen years ago we visited South Reading, coming over the mountains which were a wonder to us as our birth place was on the level lands of Niagara. The village then seemed brisk with life, and many dwellings held objects of a parent's fond pride, who were climbing on for the topmost round of scholarship, while their ambition seemed proof of their ability to succeed. And lively fellowship within the hearts of the people had as untrifled a flow as the deep waters.

But now how silent the village seems. The wide world has claimed its great, good men, and has left this little group of homes to feel a fond loneliness. Its mechanics have found an ampler field for young ambition. Its printers and lawyers have sought a wider field for their talents and vocations, and its merchants have spanned the nation with valued traffic.—Each felt duty call and have left their boyhood home, and their friends seem now only waiting while yet the old spirit lingers, and enterprise is sustained, and righteous and honorable paths are shown for the grandchild to tread.

Mrs. SARAH R. CARSON, Niagara County, New York.
